Secret Voices from the Forest: Thoughts and Dreams of North American Trees (Volume One: The West) Laura J Merrill

Richard Fox, Executive Director of Trees, Water & People says, " Laura reminds us that trees have been our friends and companions for millions of years and that they are much more than just plants ... trees are, at their core, the great caretakers of life -and we are the caretakers of the trees." From AllBooks Review: The title alone drew me in like the call of a mystic spirit bidding me home. Who hasn't wondered what trees would say if only they could talk? As a history buff and historical fiction novelist myself, I have spent years observing hundred year old trees and pondering what they have seen and heard over the ages. Observing generations of homo sapiens, wars, peace, plagues, droughts, floods, progress and destruction, and yet they stand, full of wisdom and experience, but deftly silent. Until now! I couldn't wait to begin. Beautiful, brightly colored illustrations, introduce each tree species and accompany the following pages describing its companions, both flora and fauna. The trees included in this book are all North American western region species. Secret Voices from the Forest is more than a book filled with facts and information about trees, it is a tool in the journey to self; a provider of subtle messages to enrich, enlighten and broaden our lives. Author, Laura Merrill ... has developed her ability to receive mental impressions, not only from people, but also plants and animals. A beautiful book that will be a source of pleasure, information and spiritual guidance for years to come, one that will remain close at hand. The first of four books, this one is subtitled West. Watch for the others in the series Midcontinent, The East and Tropics and Deserts. Highly Recommended by Reviewer: Shirley Roe, Allbooks Review Int. www.allbooksreviewint.com
