Finding The Right Man For You: Dating Advice for Women Lawrence J. Danks

Many women don't need a man, but would like to find the right one to augment their happiness. Women often seek the advice of other women to help them in their search, but rarely get a male perspective. Finding The Right Man For You helps women evaluate their current situation, provides support in dealing with divorce or the death of a partner, addresses fear and self-doubt, recommends what to look for in a man, provides perspectives on sex and intimacy, offers many suggestions on how to meet men, recommends online dating tips and offers guidance in answering dating questionnaires and in writing personal statements. Further recommendations are provided on: dating for women who have children and work pressures, personal and financial safety, how to guard against men who lie, health and dating, finding happiness with or without a man, finding love and romance, and ultimately making a decision about a man. The book has been reviewed in its entirety, or in part, by female reviewers and advisors who have offered their valuable insights and experiences. It's motivational and supportive, and provides inspiration through memorable stories and many powerful quotations.
